Welcome

Sir James Gobbo
Governor of Victoria

SHOWTIME in Melbourne brings to many people the first real awareness of Spring each year, with all that the new season means to Victoria and its people.

The Royal Melbourne Show is a landmark event in our state, widely recognised by millions of Victorians and tourists alike as the annual showcase for the best in farm animals, agriculture, commerce and arts and crafts.

It is a celebration of the entire agricultural chain in an environment of education and entertainment.

It is also the culmination of the year in agriculture and agricultural business with a total of 122 regional shows leading into the Royal Melbourne Show, together with a range of field days and commercial competitions.

In my first year of office as Governor, I welcome all Victorians and visitors to the 139th Royal Melbourne Show.

I know that the abundance of agricultural wealth which we will see displayed over the 11 days of the Show will serve as a timely reminder of our heritage in this magnificent state.

The Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria is continuing to work hard to ensure that its rich traditions in this state are not only perpetuated but enhanced as we move towards the new century.

The Royal Melbourne Show is one delightful tradition in which we can all share to help assure this.

Jeff Kennett
Premier of Victoria

THERE are few events which capture the spirit of Victoria as gloriously and thoroughly as the Royal Melbourne Show.

While Victorians continue to embrace an ever quickening pace of change, it is heartening to also see a handful of traditional favorites remaining popular.

Ever-growing attendance figures show this historic recipe of city and country influences has relevance in the late 20th century, equal to or even greater than 20 or 50 years ago.

A simple yet rich pleasure can be had by simply watching a suburban primary school student patting a lamb, feeding hay to a calf or gingerly holding a duckling in their cupped hands.

The Royal Melbourne Show highlights our State's work and progress in agriculture, horticulture and viticulture and promotes the use of leading edge technology and world best practice in value adding and exporting.

Members of the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria have worked extraordinarily hard to ensure this year's event provides old-fashioned fun while meeting lofty modern standards in terms of food and entertainment.

The Show heads an extensive program of regional and rural shows across the state, prepared by a predominantly volunteer workforce, and I congratulate all of them for their efforts.

Last month, the tourism industry judged the Royal Melbourne Show as one of Victoria's biggest major festivals and special events.

I encourage you to visit this year's Show and renew your acquaintance with one of our most enduring and endearing annual events.

Bob Potter
President, Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria Limited

the exciting Snowy River Cup, parachute jumping and precision driving.

Most days will feature the wonderful Grand Parade of prize-winning livestock and horsedrawn vehicles. And every night the Show will be put to bed after spectacular fireworks displays.

You will have a choice of exciting showbags officially checked for quality and value.

A wide range of Asian, European and Australian foods will be enjoyed with the best local wines and beers.

This year the horticulture display has been greatly expanded and there will be something for every garden enthusiast.

And in the Hall of Natural Fibres, see our special display of natural fibres including wool, cotton, mohair, cashmere and alpaca.

The Royal Melbourne Show represents the very best of Victoria. Don't miss it!

It's a free country.

VOICE OF THE COUNTRY SINCE 1869

An open show for everyone

Animal attractions, with a hands-on emphasis, will be a major feature at this year's Show

VISITORS won't find many fences at this year's Royal Melbourne Show. That's because it offers the inside story on agriculture.

Special exhibits mean visitors can get a hands-on introduction to the animal kingdom.

See dogs, cats, guinea pigs, cage birds, fish, frogs, rabbits, ferrets, snakes and other animals people keep at home at the special IAMS Wonderful World of Pets.

The National Australia Bank Animal Nursery is the place for pating lambs, alpacas, piglets, ducks, goats and many other kinds of animals found on the farm.

And for thrilling live action you can't go past the Victorian Dairy Industry Authority Nature's Way where visitors can see ostriches, calves, lambs and goats born right before their eyes.

To ensure you don't miss any of our exciting animal attractions, take a stroll along the Streets Paddle Pop

Animal Walk — just look for the Paddle Pop Lion and his huge paw prints painted on the main Showgrounds' thoroughfares!

And this year, the Show launches its new Moonee Valley Racing Club Horses for Courses exhibit. Here, visitors will find experts who can answer questions you have about horses and their care.

Record numbers of showjumping riders will contest new events on the Main Arena especially for Olympians, plus a Pacific League World Cup Qualifying showjumping round on a course created by an Olympic 2000 course designer.

Special cattle step out into the spotlight at the Show — many with unusual names like Beated Galloway, Brahman and Highland.

New classes have also been introduced for their smaller cousins including breeds like Lewline and Dexter.

The Show welcomes Spring in the expanded Halls of Horticulture with an abundance of flowers, fruit, shrubs, trees, vegetables, commercial stands and floral art competitions.

The Show prides itself on showcasing excellence in agriculture, from the paddock to our plates.

This theme has provided inspiration for Michael O'Brien Catering to deliver a feast of the best local products served in combinations to tempt every palate.

Thrills and excitement

THE Royal Melbourne Show offers something for everyone.

Visitors will see moving street theatre with musicians and performers, clowns, bands and puppets.

And the West Bin Australian Strongman Challenge, Eukanuba Flyers dogs, and pigs and ferret racing will feature on Showtime lawn areas.

The Main Arena will see special horse events such as the Snowy River Cup and camp drafting, parachute jumping, motor sport, plus the Dr Pepper fireworks display every night.

Explore the maze of sideshows, or brave thrilling rides.

The Rural Finance Corporation Grand Parades showcase Australia's woodchopping, pig o'war, wagonracking, pony rides, wire making, farmers and heavy arts. The Elgside Theatre features continuous shows from 11am to 3pm every day including puppetry, story telling, music, song and dance.

The Ronald McDonald McMagical Circus Show is on the Streets Lawn Stage each Saturday from 12.15 to 1.30pm. Also on the stage is the police Showband Code 1, country and western, school and indigenous bands.

Alpaca accolade

WITH their curious expressions and softer-than-soft fleece, alpacas are fast becoming a Showtime favorite.

Proving the friendly creatures are much more than an exotic farming trend, alpacas have been named "feature fibre" at the Show this year — an accolade usually reserved for sheep.

A record 200 alpacas from all over Australia will compete at the Show this year — the biggest gathering of alpacas in Australia and an entry higher than at the latest Alpaca National Show. Some 37 fleeces will also be judged separately.

Alpacas are native to Chile or Peru where they are bred for their fleece and used as a utility or pack animal.

Alpaca fleece is world famous for its soft feel and fine fibre, which is comparatively stronger than sheep wool and perfect for hard wearing but soft and lightweight garments.

Jeff Halpin, at Seymour, in Victoria introduced alpacas to Australia in 1968. Today the Australian Alpaca Association says there are some 1300 breeders in the country, with 500 based in Victoria.

Show visitors can watch the judging from 9am Friday, September 26, in the VACC Ring of The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion (map ref: B4).

And for the first time, judging will be followed by an exclusive sale of five hand-picked alpacas also in the pavilion.

If you want to get closer to alpacas or chat to their breeders, don't miss the action in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion on Saturday, September 28.

Visitors can browse the stalls selling fleece and yarn, pat a cria (baby alpaca) or watch the junior judging workshops in progress.

Cup hopes to star

THE Main Arena, with its new and improved turf will host a feast of equestrian events, including a Volvo/K Ritchie World Cup Showjumping qualifying event during the Show.

Record entries have been posted for horse events.

The spectacular action begins with general judging on Thursday, September 18. Jumping events will be held from September 20 to 28.

The crowd favorite, the Garryowen, will be held on Friday, September 19, from 9am on the Main Arena.

Competitors in this prestigious turnout event for women spend hundreds of hours and thousands of dollars to meet the strict entry criteria.

A highlight for horse-jumping enthusiasts at the Show will be the combined course designed by Victoria's John Vallance and Venezuela's Leopoldo Palacias. They will also design the courses at the Sydney 2000 Olympics.

Mr Palacias will arrive in Melbourne direct from Belgium after designing the World Breeding Championships' course.

Show patrons can see his handiwork at the Volvo/K Ritchie World Cup Qualifier, held under lights on Thursday, September 25, at 7.15pm.

In recognition of this special event, the audience will be invited to sit on the Main Arena close to the action.

Other Showtime equestrian innovations include a new, improved program for A, B, and C group horses, six-bar and top score competitions.

This year's Show also sees the return of the ever-popular Puissance event — the ultimate test of courage for horse and rider.

And who could miss the Clydesdales? Melbourne is proud to judge a higher number of these horses (either solo or pulling a vehicle of some description) than any other Royal Show in Australia.

So hold on to your horses, this year's Show will be big.

Horses for courses

EVER wondered what the difference is between a thoroughbred and a quarter horse?

Well, at this year's Show, there's no shortage of horse sense to answer this and any other questions if you visit the new Moonee Valley Racing Club Horses for Courses display.

Horses for Courses is the Show's latest addition to its livestock education displays — specially designed for those who want to know about horses but have little or no experience or knowledge about equine care and maintenance.

Horses for Courses comprises three major components:

- A demonstration ring where horse experts will discuss topics such as equipment and rider safety, horse character, health and conformation.

- Stables will be home to different horse breeds with accompanying information on their purpose. See the diversity of shapes, sizes, color and conformation that owners can choose from.

- A display with information on horse care and how to get in touch with pony clubs and other horse organisations.

Each day of the Show, a child from the audience will be given the opportunity to step into a saddle for the first time under supervision of trained staff.

In bringing Horses for Courses to life, the Show worked closely with the Pony Club Association of Victoria.

Assistance has also been provided by the Northern College of TAFE, which has a successful Horse Management Course catering primarily for the racing industry.

The best in livestock

THE Royal Melbourne Show has played host to some of the best livestock the country has to offer for decades and this year promises to be no exception, despite trying seasonal conditions in rural areas.

During the Show, some 25,000 animals will be on display — the best of the best in all creatures big and small — from cats to canines and alpacas to Ayrshires.

The Show is the biggest dog event in the southern hemisphere, a showdown where more than 6000 canines strut their stuff in a battle to decide top dog.

There will also be more than 1000 beef cattle, including well-known breeds such as Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn, and some of the not-so-well known such as Bazadaise and Belgian Blues.

Feature beef cattle breed this year is the Beef Shorthorn.

In the dairy cattle classes, the feature breed is the Guernsey. This year's cattle exhibition also includes a small breeds section where miniature breeds such as Lowlines and Dexters will vie for broad ribbons.

For other four-legged fans, the Show will be home to more than 5000 horses competing in show jumping, dressage and harness classes.

In the sheep classes, 23 breeds will be on display including black and colored types as well as fleece classes.

Alpacas are a feature at this year's Show and a record number of about 200 from all over Australia will compete — a tally higher than the latest Alpaca National Show. Some 37 fleeces will also be judged.

Outside the Show ring, visitors can find a host of companion animals in the IAMS Wonderful World Of Pets where some of the more interesting pets kept by people will be on display.

So if you are looking for a furry friend, whether it's a domestic pet or farm animal, you'll find it at the Show.

Mini cattle in big time

THE country's smallest beef cows will strut their stuff in a head-on way of their own for the first time at the Show cattle pavilion this year.

The unusual breeds include Lowlines, Square Meaters and Miniature Herefords.

And who better to tell us about them than Don Burke. When not hosting his top-rating program, Burke's Backyard, Don takes a special interest in breeding miniature cattle.

Don will host a special commentary session on Miniature Galloway and Miniature British White breeds on Friday, September 19, from 6pm in the VAC Ring of The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion (Map ref B4).

Small cattle judging starts with the Lowline breed in the Pavilion at 10am. Another unusual breed on show is Belgian Blue, just one of the many specialty cattle breeds featured at the Show.

Others include Belled Comtoise — known for their distinctive blue-tinged bell on their sides — and the rare Brahman, well known for its ability to thrive in Australia for its ability to withstand difficult conditions.

Justing for the Show spotlight will be the feature beef breed — the Beef Shorthorn.

YELLOW Brick Road showbag enthusiasts will receive discount ticket offers for the Wizard of Oz on Ice spectacular coming soon to Melbourne.

The discount offer for one of the world's most famous musicals is just one of the many treats in the Royal Melbourne Show's healthiest showbag.

At $7, The Weekly Times' Yellow Brick Road showbag is one of the show's best values for money.

"Roadies" pick up their re-usable calico showbags at four points at the showgrounds: adjacent to the Government Expo inside the main gate, at the Dairy pavilion inside the railway entrance, from a booth at the Flemington car park entrance and The Weekly Times Olde Shoppe.

Those using previous years' bags will only have to pay $6.50 to have it stamped for this year's event and receive the all-important route map.

And on seniors day — Monday, September 22 — the "silver tops", as grandparents are affectionately known, will receive a $1 discount on the showbag and receive a bonus product.

Roadies follow the painted Yellow Brick Road to a number of clearly-marked sites to pick up 18 items.

SHOW VALUE

Here's some great Royal Melbourne Show value — and it's free!

COLLECT a free lemonade spider from the Department of Education display in the Government pavilion.

TASTE some fabulous fresh fruit from the Murray Valley in the Hall of Agriculture.

PAT the cute baby animals in the National Australia Bank animal nursery.

These include ice-creams from award-winning manufacturer Riviera Ice-cream, Capilano honey, tasty Sunbeam sultanas, fresh fruit and vegetables and, of course, a copy of The Weekly Times' big showtime edition.

This year, the Yellow Brick Road will have more of a Wizard of Oz flavor to it, with "the rainbow connection" bridge linking the Hall of Horticulture and the PB Ronald building, where some of the showbag goodies can be found.

In The Wizard of Oz, the rainbow connection was the link to the Land of Oz.

At the Royal Show, three-dimensional images of characters such as Dorothy, the Tin Man and Scarecrow will form part of the rainbow connection display.

But Yellow Brick Road devotees will have to wait until the Wizard of Oz on Ice musical begins at the Melbourne Entertainment Centre on October 22 before they can see lifelike versions of these characters.

PROGRAMS AND TIMES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE

Have you ever had a problem with your back?

Have you ever thought there's got to be a better way?

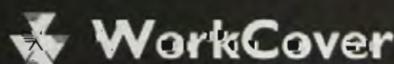

At the Royal Melbourne Show WorkCover will show you a better way to a better back ...

With plenty of interactive activities to test the latest in lifting devices, WorkCover's display will show you how to prevent back injuries at work — and in the home.

And if you do have back pain, WorkCover will show you how staying active — through a range of activities — can help. You can test your stamina on the cycle machines or enter one of our competitions.

You will find WorkCover's stand in the Government Pavilion.

Back pain ... don't take it lying down.

HOW TO GET YOUR HANDS ON A HERO

At the Royal Australian Mint stand at the Show, you can make your own one dollar coin on our special coin press. The 1997 coin features Australia's aviation hero, Sir Charles Kingsford Smith and carries a special "M" mintmark that means it has been made at the Melbourne Show. There are lots of other interesting collectables to see and buy, including the Kingsford Smith Six Coin Set and our Gumnut Baby Coin Set, so come and visit us at Stand No G6015, Lennon Avenue.

What, where and when

The Show will be officially opened by the Governor General, Sir William Deane, on Saturday, September 21, at 2.30pm on the Main Arena.

The Rural Finance Corporation/Channel 7 Grand Parades are a spectacle not to be missed. The parade takes in the best of Australia's livestock. Looking like a well-choreographed routine, cattle, horse, goats and many others weave their way across the Main Arena while a large collection of harness vehicles slowly circles the perimeter.

Saturday, Sept 20	2.30pm
Sunday, Sept 21	2.30pm (cattle only)
Tuesday, Sept 23	2.30pm
Wednesday, Sept 24	2.30pm
Friday, Sept 26	2.30pm, 7pm
Saturday, Sept 27	2.30pm
Sunday, Sept 28	11.30am

Customer Service Information Staff

If you need help finding a particular Show location, keep your eyes peeled for our roving Royal Show Ambassadors, who want to ensure patrons get the most enjoyment possible from their Showtime visit. Show Ambassadors will be distinctly dressed in red Akobra hats and, if it is a cool day, they will wear red Mountain Mocs coats. Trips for international visitors can also be arranged as can one-on-one or small group tours.

Consumer comments

COMMENTS that visitors to the Royal Melbourne Show may want to make about showbag purchases, showbag content, amusement rides and other purchases can be made to the Encyclopedia Britannica Information Centre staff or to the Reception Desk, Administration Building (Map Ref G4).

Hall of Natural Fibres (Map B5)

Let your imagination run wild when you step inside the Hall of Natural Fibres. See a kaleidoscope of creation involving everything from silk painting, Just Jeans fashion parades, the Fantasy of Fabric quilting competition, fleece and shearing competitions plus Peter Mitchell leading spinning, weaving and knitting demonstrations. If that isn't enough, there's the debut exhibition of Show's Rural Photography competition entries and Peter Sharp's rural poetry readings. The hall's renowned traders offer all descriptions of indoor and outdoor apparel, footwear, Scottish and Irish-inspired tweeds and skin-care products.

Meat Promotions Centre (Map F3)

Secrets to preparing quick and easy meals with meat are revealed in the Meat Promotions Centre. Regular cooking demonstrations and tastings feature Melbourne's top food specialists and butchers. Meals will be enhanced by products offered by food giants Anthonia and Golden Circle, which represent the Australian Canned Food Information Service. The National Meat Association has information on its quality assurance program for butchers - the Q Award. Commercial Wholesale Butchers will present innovative meat cuts for sale. Nearby is Castlemaine Bacon, CUB, Good Taste Magazine and Australia's biggest Asian grocery importer, Oriental Merchant Pty Ltd. And Melbourne's Sausage King will be crowned for the best display of snags on Sunday, September 28. Watch butchers ply their trade over a hot plate inside the pavilion in heats during the first week of the Show and see regular sausage-making demonstrations in the window of the pavilion.

Dairy Foods Pavilion (Map F3)

Sample flavored and fermented milk, specialty cheeses, delicious yoghurts, dairy desserts and mouth-watering icecream in the Dairy Foods Pavilion. The Australian Dairy Corporation will supply information on health and nutrition and provide delicious dairy based recipes. Commercial exhibitors will offer a range of dairy produce and showbags. Visitors can also see Victoria's best dairy cuisine in a display of Royal Melbourne Dairy Show winners.

Harvest Hall (Map F3)

Visitors to Harvest Hall can get an idea of the breadth of Australia's agricultural industry and see the value-added everyday food items resulting from our farmers' labor. Harvest Hall offers a variety of fresh and processed produce - an ideal retreat when the children are hungry after hours of Showtime fun. This year live bees and honey will be on display, as will trout fishing, eucalyptus products and the best grain found through the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria and the Victorian Farmers' Federation grains quality awards. Sunrice will also have a display of rice and its many uses.

Farriers Forge (Map B4)

Visitors to the Farrier's Forge will be taken back to a time when hot metal, glowing coals and skilled hands were an integral part of the community. With all the atmosphere of a hard complete with anvil, horses and iron tyes,

In the patting paddock, children have the opportunity to touch, smell and feed baby animals which this year include rare breeds of sheep and water-fowl. All animals used in the nursery are accustomed to life in the spotlight. One of the Show's most popular attractions, the Animal Nursery draws about 450,000 visitors each Show.

Pigs & People (Map B4)

There's more to pigs than meets the eye and for Show visitors the Pigs & People display is a unique chance to learn how intelligent these animals are and about the hi-tech side of pig production. Each day of the Show, Pigs & People will present the four most popular breeds of pigs in Australia and outline their relevance to the industry. After this short session, the pigs make their way to an ensuite to have a shower and drink in cool off. Adults and children will also have the opportunity to pat a pig in complete safety and see how a sow looks after her litter, which can be up to 20 piglets. Kids are special guests at the Pigs & People display where they have a VIP lounge so they will not miss a piece of the action. The exhibit is presented by the Australian Pork Corporation, the Pig Research and Development Corporation, Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria and the Department of Natural Resources and Environment. It was awarded the IAFE gold medal for best international special agricultural educational event for the show-going public in 1995.

IAMS Wonderful World of Pets (Map H3)

The IAMS Wonderful World of Pets gives visitors easy and friendly access to companion animals - some less well known than others. The IAMS Wonderful World of Pets offers the chance to ask questions about domesticated animals including dogs, cats, guinea pigs, cage birds, fish, frogs, rabbits, ferrets, snakes and other pets. For the person looking for that special pet, a wealth of information and advice will be available. The highlight of the unique pet world will be a live snake demonstration to be held each day of the Show. The 20-minute demonstration covers topics such as toxicity, common fallacies about snakes, an overview of dangerous snakes in Victoria, snake safety, first aid and how not to get bitten.

Nearly half a hectare of the Showgrounds close to the railway station entrance will be converted into IAMS Wonderful World of Pets, adjoining the Dog Pavilion.

Home and Leisure Pavilion (Map H3)

Shoppers will find many bargains at the Home & Leisure Pavilion. They will find everything from personally-bound books to moleskin trousers and seedlings.

Pavilions: the inside story the floral design competition and the spectacular floral clock, this year sponsored by Woodlands Nurseries. Flowers cover almost every surface of the clock, which is more than 6 metres in diameter. It is the world's only floral clock to include a second hand, and strikes the hour and half hour and sprays itself at regular intervals.

The Victorian Agricultural Societies' Association will have regional information booths at the horticulture display with regional information booths.

Streets Paddle Pop Animal Walk

Getting closer to some of the cutest and cuddliest pets and farm animals will be a breeze at the Show by following the Streets Paddle Pop Animal Walk. Visitors looking for a free, fun and interactive time with animals need only to follow the Paddle Pop Lion's paw prints, painted on walkways leading to several locations where animals are the stars. The animal walk links the Show's major interactive animal exhibits including Nature's Way (birthing centre), the Animal Nursery (patting paddocks), Pigs & People, Wonderful World of Pets and the new Horses for Courses. Ask one of the many Streets representatives dressed in safari suits with Paddle Pop Lion on their backs for a map of the Walk. Or collect a map from Encyclopedia Britannica Show information booths or roving Show ambassadors.

the Farrier's Forge is a great place to learn about Australia's heritage and traditional trades and skills. Demonstrations of forging, horse dentistry, shoeing, breaking and wheel righting are programmed around daily forging activities. Other attractions at the Farrier's Forge include demonstrations of how horse-breakers gradually gain a horse's confidence.

Melb Market Authority Pavilion (Map E4)

Spring and all its brilliance can be celebrated in style because this year's horticulture display has been boosted by the addition of another pavilion full of produce. The new Melbourne Market Authority Pavilion in the PB Ronald Pavilion will be a spectacular showcase of fresh fruit, vegetables and flora. This pavilion will be linked by a special undercover walkway to the Coles Hall of Horticulture. The "Rainbow Connection" will ensure that visitors to the Show do not miss any of the brilliant colors of fruit, vegetables and flowers on display. The new venue will be opened by the Governor of Victoria, Sir James Gobbo, on the first Friday of the Show, September 19. Other horticultural attractions include

The Victorian Dairy Industry's Nature's Way (Map C6)

There's a special place at the Show where visitors can see some of Mother Nature's best-kept secrets. The Victorian Dairy Industry's Nature's Way gives people the chance to see an actual animal birth and get an insight into the fascinating world of reproduction in several breeds of farm animals. Last year the exhibit lived up to its name with 134 lambs, two calves, one foal and 27 ostriches born in the pavilion which is staffed by livestock industry experts from the Department of Natural Resources and Environment. The team cares for the animals, gives running commentaries on births and answers questions. Tiered seating will ensure that visitors of all ages will miss none of the birthing action.

NAB Animal Nursery (Map D4)

A slice of country life will greet visitors to the National Australia Bank Animal Nursery when they come face to face with many of the animals found on farms. And 50 cockatoos will be perched above a resting paddock complete with a huge mural of a rural scene. The display takes on a farmyard facade, complete with "patting" paddocks, fences, trees and sheds. Visitors will also be invited to get a hands-on feel for agriculture in the interactive corner where different animal feeds can be felt and a four-stage depiction of the life cycle of a chicken can be viewed.

Winning creations

A CREATIVE streak and a picture-perfect memory were Robynn O'Lynn and Jocelyn Meyer's secret of success in winning this year's Weekly Times Art Prize.

Entrants were invited to let the Royal Melbourne Show's key elements — animals, rides and people — be their inspiration.

They could apply this to any medium in a ready-to-hang form and no bigger than A3 size.

Although neither Robyn nor Jocelyn had been to the Show since their childhood, their paper collage proved a hit with the judges who were impressed by the attention to detail and their vivid interpretation.

"It is very much a nostalgic piece for both of us. I think I was 15 when I last went to the show," says Jocelyn.

Their piece is made entirely from recycled paper and took more than 60 hours to complete.

"It's been worth it though. It was such a buzz finding out that we had won," Jocelyn said.

The win was even more of a surprise to her co-winner, friend and Fish Creek neighbor, Robynn O'Lynn.

"We were just hoping to make the top 10 and have our work displayed at the Show," she said.

Robynn and Jocelyn will share the $1000 first prize and hope to enter more competitions soon.

Alison Moll, of Derinallum, won second prize of $500 for her watercolor impression of the show.

The Weekly Times Art Prize is run in conjunction with the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria. The 10 best entries will be on display in the William Angliss Art Gallery.

Taste our finest food

SOME of Victoria's finest food can be sampled at the Royal Melbourne Show where a smorgasbord of healthy, tasty morsels awaits even the biggest appetite.

Everything from quick, light snacks to gourmet meals will be at the Showgrounds where food takes pride of place at the many sit-down and takeaway venues.

Visitors looking for something a little different are well catered for at the Rural Pavilion where this year a traditional "hunge" meal (food cooked on a hot bed of ashes and buried in the ground) will be prepared daily.

The Rural Pavilion will also feature produce from alternative enterprises such as crocodile, emu, kangaroo, yabbies, smoked salmon, trout, biodynamic ice cream and even camel burgers.

Another venue well worth the visit will be the Paddock to Plate site, where the Milawa region of north-east Victoria will be featured with some of the area's best wines, cheeses and mustards.

The Paddock to Plate venue will have some of Melbourne's finest dining including Collingwood's Uppercrust Bakery, famous for its bagels, baguettes and croissants, and Williamstown's Top of the Bay, for the freshest fish and chips.

Beef eaters won't miss out because the Show will promote several individual breeds including Lincoln Red, Simmental and Angus.

The Top Cut Steakhouse, near the railway entrance and close to the Meat Promotion Centre, is also a must for some of the best steak in town.

A new feature this year is the Tea House on the bottom floor of the PB Ronald Pavilion.

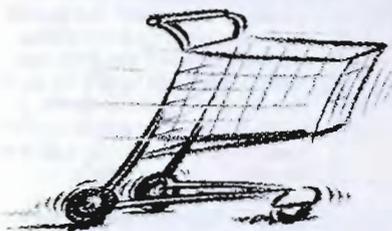

It will feature the IKON (formerly Gas and Fuel) demonstration kitchen, cooking nothing but Heart Foundation-approved meals.

The Tea House will also keep children entertained with daily gingerbread painting and flower arranging demonstrations.

A completely new food precinct on the corner of Peck Street and Brisbane Avenue will be handy for parents and kids after a busy time on Show rides or Showbag buying.

Walter's Wine Bar will have a tasty tippie of Australia's best viticultural produce, and the Royal Cafe is the place for a hearty Showtime meal.

So whatever your taste in food, you'll never go hungry at the Show where healthy, delicious snacks and meals are never far away.

YOU'LL NEED ONE AT THE SHOW.

Come prepared for one of Australia's great shopping experiences because this year there's more than ever to tempt you at the Show.

Everything from personally bound books to moleskin trousers, from sporting equipment to seedlings.

If it's offbeat, exciting, new or unique you'll find it and buy it in the Coles Hall of Horticulture, Melbourne Market Authority Pavilion, Home & Leisure Pavilion, Sport & Recreation Hall or the Natural Fibres Hall.

A Show for all sports

SHOWTIME means not only excellence in agriculture, but also sport. Visitors will see their sporting heroes in the new Showgrounds Exhibition Centre.

They include Club Ten and AFL players from Essendon, North Melbourne, Geelong, Richmond, Brisbane, Adelaide, Hawthorn, St Kilda, Carlton, Collingwood, Western Bulldogs and Melbourne Football Clubs.

If your sporting preference centres on another code, you won't miss out at the Show.

Heroes from rugby's Superleague, Soccer Australia, National Hockey League, the Royal Victorian Bowls Association and the Australian Grand Prix will be at the centre throughout the 10 days.

The National Basketball Association makes its Showtime debut this year with its "jam session" of free basketball-themed games and activities in the Sport and Recreation Pavilion (Map Ref G4).

Regular basketball skills competitions will be held on the "champion" challenge court while visitors can provide their own commentary in the NBA Fantasy Play By booth.

The latest Sony Playstation Total NBA 97 game can be trialled and visitors can also check out the newest range of NBA merchandise.

If you'd rather get fit than watch others, the Show has plenty to offer.

Unique Fitness Equipment can advise on how to set up a gym at home. Canoe Australia can help you get started on the water, take to the road with help from Ted Cycles or Road & Track Magazine, and get the right nutritional intake from Rhino Sport Supplements.

Other stands worth a look include His & Hers Beds, All Star Cards, and the Carlton & United Brewery.

If your sporting interests lean more to spectating, why not visit the Woodchop Lawn to see the big chips fly.

Cut above the rest

THERE is more to showing cattle than parading pampered pedigrees around a ring.

The Weekly Times beef carcass competition provides city patrons with a better understanding of the process responsible for delivering meat from paddock to plate.

For many genuine commercial cattle producers, the carcass competition is the business end of the Show — a true measure of their ability to supply quality consistent meat.

More than 200 steers, suitable for a range of domestic and export markets, will line up firstly in the led steel competition (pre-slaughter) and then on the hook at SBA Australia - Altona abattoir.

A highlight of this year's event is the heavy involvement of young people with about 18 colleges entering cattle Show cattle section chairman Adrian Smith says.

"They (students) use it as a learning experience," Mr Smith says.

While the live animal component of the competition allows the animal's structure to be assessed — normally by an international judge, the carcass component of the competition carries the most prestige for breeders.

Judges take into consideration the amount of fat, meat color, weight and yield in determining the placings.

VICTORIA POLICE ON SHOW
 Investigate the Victoria Police Exhibition at this year's Royal Melbourne Show. Have your photograph taken on a police motorcycle, discover the latest forensic science techniques and inspect the effects of speeding at the car crash scene. Learn ways to prevent burglary in your home and join in the 'fact hunting' competition. Try the interactive displays which activate red light cameras, sound effects and visual displays. Join in the entertainment and face painting on the Blue Light stage, find out how to join the Force and speak to police members who will answer all of your questions. Experience all of this and much more with the Victoria Police - "Serving the community 24 hours a day."
 Victoria Police, First Floor, Government Expo Centre.

HOW TO ENJOY THE BIGGEST EVENT

IN THE EVENT STATE

This year's Royal Show is bigger and better than ever as the country comes to town for the biggest event in the event State. This year we've made it easier to enjoy with special value tickets, more places to buy them and the best transportation of any event in Australia!

BETTER VALUE THAN EVER!

STANDARD TICKET PRICES

Adults	$14	Children under 15	$7
Concessions	$10	Family Pass (2 adults & 2 children)	$35

EARLY BIRD TICKET

Get in early because these tickets are only available on the first two days of the Show - September 18 & 19. Adults, children and concessions $7 each.

SIX-AFTER-SIX TICKET

Enjoy the Show at night - the rides, the restaurants, the animals, street theatre, showbags and the fireworks. After 6pm adults, children and concessions pay just $6 each. (Excludes Early Bird days September 18 & 19.)

NEW 2-DAY PASS

Because it's impossible to experience everything at the Show in one day, we've introduced a special two-day adult pass for just $24 (Save $4).

GROUP BOOKINGS

Groups of ten or more people qualify for special group rates of $10 for adults and $4 for children. Group bookings must be made prior to September 18, 1997. Group Booking Information: (03) 9376 3988.

ROYAL
SHOW

SEPT 18-28

HOW TO GET THERE.

The Met is the best way to get to the Show with trains running from Flinders Street and Spencer Street stations direct to the Showgrounds. Trams operate from the corner of Flinders and Elizabeth Sts in the City. Take tram numbers 54, 57, 58 or 60 direct to the Showgrounds. Northern and western suburbs bus lines regularly service the Showgrounds - check with your bus line for detailed services.

WHERE DO I PARK?

You can bring your car to the Show and park all day at Flemington Racecourse adjacent to the Showgrounds for just $5.

HOW, WHAT AND WHEN?

For more information about the 1997 Royal Melbourne Show, just call our Show Information Line on (03) 9376 3988 or for recorded program information call 1902 21 02 08. (Note: a 75c charge applies.)

WHERE TO BUY YOUR SHOW TICKETS.

You can buy show tickets at Ticketek, Coles Supermarkets, most Met stations, RACV outlets or at the gates of the Showgrounds.
