In a new initiative, the Royal Melbourne Show will host the ACPA Victorian Young Auctioneers Competition, where some of Victoria's brightest talent will showcase their auctioneering skills in aid of the Ovarian Cancer Research Foundation.

THERE IS A HEALTHY SPIRIT OF COMPETITION AT THE SHOWGROUNDS, WITH EVERY CONTENDER DREAMING OF A COVETED BLUE ROSETTE

The creativity and competitiveness of Victorians is not to be underestimated. The Royal Melbourne Show is a public stage for that passion, with thousands of exhibits entered in competitions every year.

From cake decorating to cattle, fleece to fashion, horses to heunds and sewing to sewing, there is a competition for all contenders.

Some take weeks or months to prepare their entries, others hit the kitchen for an afternoon or take an outing to capture a great picture — the competition categories are vast.

Competitors from across the state send the best examples of their work to be judged in the hope of winning a coveted blue first place rosette.

ART, CRAFT AND COOKERY

View the handwork of Victorians in the Art, Craft and Cookery section of the Show.

Entrants have created nearly 4000 exhibits across scores of different categories, from needlecraft to more modern mediums, and the favourite cake decorating, art and toy-making sections.

The competition this year features new categories including recycled garments and fashion from the farm, fashion parades, short film and animation, contemporary works and portraiture, technology and design, Christmas decorations, gold work/metal thread embroidery, bark art, chocolate truffles and Turkish delight.

Hear what the judges really think during public judging of the millinery exhibits by master milliner Paris Kynae on Saturday September 19, or the jams, jellies and preserves the same day.

On Sunday September 20 watch as a group of talented spinners take fleece and spin and knit it into a garment at the Sheep to Shawl display.

See the people behind the award winning creations when exhibitors model their own competition garments on Friday September 18, Wednesday September 23 and Saturday September 26.

HORSES

From shetland ponies to mighty clydesdales, the Horses in Action program will be full of excitement and world-class events.

The highlight of the Show's equestrian action is the prestigious Garryowen Equestrienne Tournament, which this year celebrates its 75th anniversary.

Visit the Garryowen display in the Grand Pavilion. The competition itself will take place on Wednesday September 23.

The Pacific League World Cup Showjumping qualifier promises to be a first-class event on Saturday September 19. This is one of a select number of qualifying events in Australia. The highest ranked rider at the Pacific League is eligible to compete at the 2010 Rolex FEI World Cup Final in Geneva, Switzerland.

Check out the Horse Precinct as well, where you can see how much effort is put in to preparing a horse for the Show.

DAIRY CATTLE

See where your milk really comes from when the Dairy Cattle classes are held at the Show.

The Dairy Cattle competition starts with two big days — the Kubota Dairy Youth Classic showcases youth involvement in agriculture on Thursday September 17, while the Dairy Cattle Interbreed competition the next day will see all breed champions compete for the ultimate prize. Dairy cattle will compete in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion for the first three days of the Show with the interactive Milking Barn open every day.

BEEF CATTLE AND CARCASS

The Beef Cattle program in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion features a new competition this year — the Led Steer and Heifer competition with judging on Saturday September 19. The next day, young hopefuls in the ALPA Young Auctioneers Competition will auction off the cattle and vie for the title of Victorian state finalist.

The feature breed of the beef cattle competition will be the Galloway family including the Galloway, belted Galloway and miniature Galloway breeds.

The best cattle groomers will be judged on the presentation of their animals in the Gun

FLEECE COMPETITION

Award-winning fleece from sheep and alpacas will be on display for the entire Show in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion. New competitions for the most attractive

The air will be thick with cackling and crowing in the Poultry and Alpaca Pavilion for the first eight days of the Show when turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens of all shapes and sizes compete for top honours. The feathers will fly as judging takes place on September 17 with poultry at the Show until September 24. This year's feature breed, the Pekin Bantam, is sure to be a highlight.

DOGS

The Showgrounds will be packed with wagging tails as the Royal Melbourne Championship Dog Show and Action Dog Trials take place over the 11 days of the Show.

Thousands of dogs of all shapes and sizes will put their best paw forward on the indoor and outdoor judging rings in the biggest dog show in the southern hemisphere.

More than 190 different breeds will pass through pavilions 18 and 19 and the judging rings. Most will be there to try and win the prestigious Best

The woodchips fly when Australia's leading axe men take to the stage in the Woodchop competitions. The thrilling Australia v New Zealand International under 21 test series will take centre stage at Coca-Cola Arena as part of the feature entertainment program on Tuesday and Thursday nights. This is your chance to cheer on the Aussies. THE GARRYOWEN COMMEMORATES A COURAGEOUS AUSTRALIAN

The prestigious Garryowen Equestrienne Turnout is celebrating its 75th anniversary at this year's Royal Melbourne Show.

The event is held in memory of three-time Royal Melbourne Show champion saddlehorse, Garryowen, whose owner Violet Murrell died while trying to save the horse from a stable fire in 1934.

Fittingly, Violet's great-great niece Shae Hanger is the defending champion after she and her horse War Wind beat 24 other riders in the event last year.

And symbolically, Hanger rides with Ms Murrell's riding coat, helmet and diamond tie clip.

The Garryowen trophy, a memorial to Ms Murrell's bravery, is judged on mount, costume, saddlery, riding ability and general appearance of the horse and rider.

It is the peak event of Victoria's equestrian calendar.

Ms Murrell's love affair with horses began as a child. As a young woman in 1929, she received a handsome gelding named Garryowen and for the next five years the pair won more than 200 prizes at shows and gymkhanas, including champion hack at the Royal Melbourne Show three years in a row.

In 1934 a fire began in the stables behind the home Violet shared with her husband Bill.

She ran into the flames to rescue Garryowen and their other horse Piquant but she suffered terrible burns, as did Bill, who ran into the fire to drag her out.

The two horses died in the blaze and Violet and Bill both succumbed to their burns in the weeks after the fire.

After the tragedy, a proposal was put to the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria to award an annual trophy in the memory of Violet and Garryowen and the prestigious Garryowen Equestrienne Turnout award was created.

THE BIG DAY

Each rider leads her horse to the costume judge who checks the spacing between stiches to make sure it is even, confirms the rider's jacket is hand made and that the hack boots are pristine. There can be no creases on any part of the outfit and even sleeve lengths are measured.

A conformation judge checks the horse meets certain standards of shape and appearance. Saddlery is judged, with points lost if the saddle leather is not polished and supple, or if it sits too tight or too loose on the horse. Throughout this process another judge scores the general appearance and suitability of the rider and horse as a partnership.

The rider then mounts the horse. Beginning with a walk, the horse is taken through a set workout that includes trotting and cantering. The rider must not appear to be straining or struggling to keep her horse in check. Horse and rider must be balanced and composed.

SHAE HANGER

Ever since she was a child listening to her grandfather reading the family story of Garryowen, Shae Hanger has wanted to win the prestigious event.

Last year, 15 years of hard work and preparation paid off when she won the title.

"I remember thinking I would love to compete in it," said Hanger, 26.

"I like doing turnout and enjoy having everything immaculate. To win was a thrill for myself and my family."

It was an extra-special victory as she had done all the education and training of horse War Wind herself — just as her great-great aunt had done in the 1920s.

Hanger tasted success in her second year competing in the Garryowen, though she had already won five turnout titles at the Melbourne Show when competing in other events.

Competition day is merely the pinnacle of a long journey.

In June, Hanger brings her horse in from the paddock to be drenched, see the equine dentist and have new shoes fitted.

A few weeks later the horse begins light work to regain fitness, while lights are left on in the stables until about 11pm and there is daily grooming to improve the coat.

Lessons are gradually increased to about an hour a day, five times a week.

At this time Hanger makes a trip to the saddlery for a new bridle and checks the fitting of the saddle and girth — which must all do up using the fourth hole.

The horse is also taken to some shows and events to get him used to being off the property.

But the Garryowen is also about the immaculate turnout of the rider.

In July Hanger tries on her breeches and ensures all her clothing and equipment is clean and immaculate.

She buys new gloves for Garryowen day because once used, they are no longer perfect.

"Everything is made to measure so I have to keep trying everything on, about once every three weeks," she said.

For about two months before the competition, nights at home are spent polishing her boots and oiling the horse's equipment.

Competition days are "the most stressful mornings of my life." Up at 3am, she exercises her horse in the dark.

The horse is then washed and given breakfast while a friend plaits the mane and tail and ensures he is clean and dry.

After her own breakfast, Hanger starts to prepare herself. "A lot of riders have others who dress them but I was taught when I was 16. It takes about 1½ hours to dress yourself."

While she dresses, her mother puts saddle, bridle and other gear on to the horse, making sure it is spotless and giving it a last wipe and touch-up.

About 30 minutes before her heat, she gets into the saddle, ready for the eagle-eyed inspection of the judges.

• Meet previous Garryowen winners between 1-2pm each day.

Competition days are "the most stressful mornings of my life". Up at 3am, she exercises her horse in the dark alongside other competitors.

In the genes: Defending champion Shae Hanger is the great-great niece of Violet Murrell.

SUPPORTING OVARIAN CANCER RESEARCH FOUNDATION

5 The Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria (RASV) is helping raise funds for National Australia Bank's Silver Ribbon Campaign for the Ovarian Cancer Research Foundation (OCRF).

On Thursday September 17, the opening day of the Show, the RASV will donate $2 from every family ticket and $1 from every adult ticket purchased at the ticket boxes at the entrance to the Showgrounds.

As a proud partner of the Royal

Melbourne Show, NAB is also hoping to boost fundraising efforts by selling silver ribbon pins and pens and by raffling fans at the Show.

As part of the Led Steer & Heifer competition, Barrie Crotty of Barson Shortnose has donated a steer with the proceeds of its sale to be donated to the Ovarian Cancer Research Foundation. The steer, prepared by Finlay High School and Gerald Bolton, should set a good price when it is auctioned at the Show on Sunday September 20.

Ovarian cancer kills one woman every 40 hours. Mortality rates continue to be high as there is no early detection test, so when the cancer is discovered it is often too late. Since 2002, NAB has worked with the community to raise more than $3 million to support research into finding an early detection test for ovarian cancer.

WHEN IT COMES TO FOOD AND WINE, THE SHOW HAS IT ALL

Spoil yourself with some of the best food and wine the state has to offer in the centrepiece of the Showgrounds, the Grand Pavilion.

The Great Tasting Experience has two stages that feature samplings and tastings as well as cooking demonstrations that no food and wine lover would want to miss. The two stages — the Cooking Stage and the Sampling Stage — have something to tempt all fans of food, wine, beer and coffee.

Every day, experts will share their knowledge and experience while you sample some tasty treats.

THE GREAT TASTING EXPERIENCE COOKING STAGE

The Great Tasting Experience Cooking Stage is a must for the home chef, with celebrity chef appearances covering all sorts of food topics.

A highlight of the program is the appearance of MasterChef Top three contender Chris Badenoch, pictured far right, who will cook on the Great Tasting Experience stage each day and give you great tips on using beer to make gourmet fishes at home.

And Gabriel Gate, one of Australia's most loved chefs, will present a feature cooking demonstration on Sunday September 20 at 11am, 1pm and 3pm.

The KitchenAid Standmixer has been working hard in Australian kitchens for 90 years. KitchenAid will present cooking demonstrations three times a day, showcasing the popular appliance. With special guests and helpful hints, these demonstrations are the perfect opportunity to better your cooking skills.

Celebrity chef Tobie Puttock will make a special appearance on September 19 at 11am with his apprentice chefs from the Fifteen Foundation chef training program. The Fifteen Foundation concept, started by renowned chef Jamie Oliver, provides a unique opportunity for disadvantaged young people from Melbourne to reach their goals and train to become chefs.

THE GREAT TASTING EXPERIENCE SAMPLING STAGE

The Great Tasting Experience Sampling Stage offers food and beverage lovers a chance to hear from the experts while sampling some fantastic products.

If beer is your thing, you'll love the daily presentations from Beer and Brewer magazine, covering topics including home brewing, beer tasting and matching beer with your favourite foods including chocolate.

If wine is more to your taste, J. C. Watson Wine Merchants will present sessions on their range of wines. Renowned in Melbourne and the general wine industry, the Watson family has been instrumental in educating Victorians about wine. These sessions are a must for wine lovers.

Victorians are known for their passion for coffee. If you want to learn from the best, make sure you catch the baristas from Grinders Coffee, who will take you through the art of coffee making and pass on their professional tips for making a perfect brew.

The last weekend of the Show sees coffee take over The Great Tasting Experience Sampling Stage, with the best of the best competing for top honours. Competitions include the Victorian Latte Art Championships and the DETPAK Victorian Barista and Cup Tasting Championships. There will be plenty of tastings, tips and tricks from the professionals over the two days of competition.

FOOD LOVERS

There's more in the Grand Pavilion for food and wine connoisseurs.

The Baking Industry Association of Victoria's Pete Pie Factory offers a rare glimpse into the night-time world of the baker. The work that normally happens while you're asleep will instead be shown with award-winning bakers from across Victoria. Watch as the ingredients are transformed into an Australian favourite, the meat pie.

There are also treats for those who love sweets, with sugar art and pastry-making demonstrations.

Olive oil has never been more popular and The Australian Olive Council — Victoria's exhibit — will be a must-see for lovers of olive oil. The exhibit features tastings and information about the different varieties of olive oil and their uses. Producers of some of the best olive oil in the state will be on hand to pass on their tips.

A ride of passage

YOU CAN CHOOSE FROM THE SEDATE TO THE STOMACH-CHURNING

Set your heart racing on a ride at the Royal Melbourne Show. Get flung, twirled, and dropped in the name of excitement, if that's your thing.

Or take a gentler ride if the adrenalin-fuelled thrills and spills make your hair stand on end.

You'll find a ride for everyone in the three different carnival precincts at this year's Show.

You'll find the Carnival, Drumstick Family Carnival and Kids Carnival across the Showgrounds.

The Carnival features some of the more action-packed rides while the Kids Carnival will be home to fun rides and activities for the littlies.

For family fun, check out the Drumstick Family Carnival near the NAB Animal Nursery and Kids Zone.

A day at the Show is only complete if you take a ride on the Channel 7 Sky Wheel at the Herald Sun Town Square. This trip to remember gives you a bird's-eye view of the Showgrounds and a chance to enjoy Melbourne's beautiful skyline.

MAIN CARNIVAL

• New rides never seen in Melbourne will make their debut in the Carnival precinct of the Show.

The newcomers will join popular favourites including the Crazy Coaster and the 60m FI Euroslide, the biggest slide in the southern hemisphere.

FREESTYLE

Spider-Man fans will get their hearts pumping on this new themed ride which is all about longer, faster freefall. The two gondolas swing you in a 360-degree arc while you reach up to 40m in the air.

Find the Carnival action inside the railway entrance of the Showgrounds.

SKY FLYER

Be among the first in Australia to be thrilled on this high-flying Chair-o-plane. The spinning chairs of the Sky Flyer, above, will take you up to 35m high while you fly through the air. Don't miss this ride if you're after high-flying fun.

THE XXXL

The XXXL, above right, is definitely not for the faint-hearted. Hold on tight as your gondola spins you in every direction while you get up to 30m before experiencing a tummy-tingling freefall back to ground level.

DRUMSTICK FAMILY CARNIVAL

• Family members of all ages will find a ride to enjoy at the Drumstick Family Carnival near the NAB Animal Nursery and Kids Zone.

Popular attractions such as the Rockin Tug, Dodgem Cars, and the Sea Circus will delight little and big kids alike.

PIRATE'S REVENGE

The Pirate's Revenge water roller-coaster or flume ride is the most exciting new ride at the Show. The Pirate's Revenge will take you up, down and around an exciting course but beware — you might get splashed.

KIDS CARNIVAL

• The Kids Carnival is the perfect precinct for the younger ride lover — because it is designed specially for children.

With high-jumping inflatable rides to the Star Jets plane ride, kids will have a ball.

The favourite cup and saucer ride will have kids in a spin while the outback pony rides are a real treat.

Driving force: The dodgem cars and other rides are a staple of the Show, but there are a growing number of alternatives for the adventurous.

TICKET TO RIDE

The best value ticket in town is the Ticket to Ride, a pre-purchased ticket giving you Show entry and ride vouchers to use on any of the rides.

Perfect for Show visitors who love rides and great value, Ticket to Ride is only available as a pre-purchase through Ticketek until September 20, unless sold out.

REALISTIC DINOSAURS. SCREEN STARS. ROCK BANDS AND DANCERS. THE ENTERTAINMENT NEVER ENDS

Jurassic spark:
You can get up close and personal with dinosaurs at the patting zoo.

An innovative program of free entertainment at the Show will have something to keep every age group amused, from the littlest visitors to parents and grandparents alike.

The Show's entertainment schedule is bigger and better than ever, with much of the action taking place in the main entertainment precincts of the Herald Sun Town Square and Coca-Cola Arena.

For the youngsters, Elmo from Sesame Street, the characters of New MacDonald's Farm and Saddle Club will capture hearts.

The Herald Sun Entertainment Zone program, near the Herald Sun Town Square, features horse handling and education, trick horses and mules, performing dogs, ducks and bullocks.

At the Erth Dinosaur Patting Zoo, visitors will be taken back through time, to prehistoric Australia to learn about dinosaurs and other creatures that inhabited our lands millions of years ago.

For the grown-ups, the show will feature a great program of live music with the popular Sunday Sessions featuring Daryl Braithwaite and James Reyne. There will be Robbie Williams and Kylie tribute shows on Friday and Saturday nights respectively, as well as cover bands and university bands during the week.

The feature entertainment at Coca-Cola Arena has two high-energy shows every day (12.15pm and 7pm) showcasing the popular FMX stunt bikes, bush games and Double Dan Horsemanship.

A feature horse event or woodchop competition will also keep up the pace of the evening shows.

And the ultimate big bang entertainment — the fireworks display — is on nightly at 8.30pm (except September 17).

LIVE MUSIC

The Show is quickly becoming renowned for its live music program. The popular Sunday Sessions give Show visitors a chance to relax and take a step away from the hustle, bustle and noise of the Show to enjoy some great live music from Aussie rock legends. Music greats James Reyne and Daryl Braithwaite take to the stage from 3pm-5pm for this year's Sunday Sessions. Reyne, who performed at the Show last year, said he was looking forward to his return. "Last year was great. Everyone walking past seemed to stop and suddenly we had a huge crowd who were enjoying it," he said. Those who stop to listen will be in for a treat, with all Reyne's hits from the past 30 years as well as a few new songs. On Friday nights the Robbie Williams tribute band will cover all his hits, while on Saturday nights a Kyle Minogue tribute act is guaranteed to get you out of your seat. The sensational live music continues with the best cover bands and university hands playing their brand of music every weeknight. Visitors who hit the Showgrounds during the day will not miss out on live music either, with the service and community bands taking to the stage.

FEATURE ENTERTAINMENT - COCA-COLA ARENA

The daredevil riders of the ShowTime Yamaha FMX stunt team fly through the air, performing stunts that will astound you. Twice a day they will hit Coca-Cola Arena with their crazy stunts, pushing their Yamaha bikes and bodies to the limit with extreme, mid-air, freestyle feats. The FMX riders have been thrilling crowds around the world for 10 years and are one of the most popular recent additions to the Show schedule. Their fully choreographed performances include Australia's top freestyle Moto X performers jumping dirt bikes more than 24m from ramp to ramp and reaching heights of more than 13m. While in the air, the fearless riders perform tricks such as the holygrab, ruler, jackhammer and the crowd favourite, the backflip. These courageous stuntmen inject some adrenalin into the twice-daily shows on the arena at 12.15pm and again at 7pm. The adrenalin continues with Bush Games, a challenging series of fast and brash competitions demonstrating the skills, strengths and traditions that are unique to Australian stockmen and women. The games will be tests of physical strength, teamwork, horsemanship, livestock handling, speed and style. The equine flavour continues in the daily shows with Double Dan Horsemanship featuring two Dads who have learnt from distinguished horsemen. The pair have their own show and give clinics around the country. The night shows have extra attractions with a feature horse event or woodchip competition before the highlight of the night — the fireworks display at 8.30pm (except September 17).

A good cause: the team from Finley High School in NSW spent three months preparing this steer for auction.

Under the hammer

A DONATED STEER CALLED TLC WILL RAISE MONEY FOR OVARIAN CANCER RESEARCH

The buzz and excitement of a live auction will come to the Royal Melbourne Show when Victoria's best young auctioneers compete for the state title.

Ten of the state's top sellers will pull out their most creative calls as they auction off about 50 cattle.

It is the first time the Australian Livestock and Property Agents Association Victorian Young Auctioneers Competition has been held at the Show.

Up for sale are the entrants in the Led Steer and Heifer Competition, which will be judged on Saturday September 19 before the auction on Sunday September 20.

But there is one extra-special lot in this competition and auction — a steer named TLC, donated by Barvon Shorthorns — that will be auctioned to raise money for the Ovarian Cancer Research Foundation.

Students from Finley High School in southern New South Wales have spent the past three months preparing TLC, who weighs more than 400kg, for the event.

Finley High School agriculture teacher Robyn O'Leary said the students had given up lunchtimes and holidays to help ready TLC and other cattle for the Show.

"The kids have been involved in all of the preparation," she said.

Preparation involves weekly weigh-ins, fine-tuning of TLC's diet, grooming, clipping, hoof trims as well as cleaning pens, water troughs and practising cattle handling and parading.

The school has a proven track record in charity steers, having prepared a steer for auction which raised more than $7500 for the

McGrath Foundation.

The Young Auctioneers Competition is held annually around Australia as part of a professional development program with each state winner and runner-up competing in the National Young Auctioneers Competition at the Sydney Royal Easter Show.

The contenders will auction three lots of cattle with a field of professional local and national buyers bidding.

A panel of three experienced auctioneers will judge the contestants rating their performance on voice control, mannerisms, presentation, rhythm, clarity, livestock knowledge and their ability to conduct a sale accurately.

The auction will be held at llam on Sunday September 20 in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion.
