PREMIER'S WELCOME

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 2010 Royal Melbourne Show, now in its 155th year.

For more than a century and a half, families have been coming to the Royal Melbourne Show to see the best that rural Victoria has to offer. It's not often that city-dwellers get the opportunity to see livestock up close, witness wood-chopping competitions, or to see horses parade in an equestrian show. All this and more can be seen this year at the Royal Melbourne Show.

I would like to congratulate the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria on another excellent Show this year, and encourage everyone to visit the Victorian Government Expo pavilion. The pavilion will build on the success of last year's 'Fast Forward' theme, providing information and celebrating the great aspects of living in Victoria.

Whether you have come for the rides, the food, the animals or just the sheer fun of the Show, I'm sure this will be a great day out.

Have a great time at the Show.

HON JOHN BRUMBY MP
Premier of Victoria

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria looks forward to welcoming visitors to the Melbourne Showgrounds to experience the very best of the country in the city at the 155th annual Royal Melbourne Show.

The Royal Melbourne Show is Victoria's largest, annual community event and celebrates our agricultural heritage by showcasing the best of agriculture in our state.

With new attractions, great family entertainment, more than 10,000 animals and free, fun activities on offer, no other event compares with the Royal Melbourne Show.

Traditionally beginning the Thursday prior to school holidays, this year the Show will be held from Saturday, September 18 to Tuesday, September 28. This time change to encompass the second week of the school holidays, will enable more families, with children, than ever before to attend the Royal Melbourne Show.

The new Flowers, Gardening and Pets Pavilion will see the return of horticulture to the Show, with the Growers Avenue and Fresh Flower Market showcasing the best Victorian blooms from Flowers Victoria.

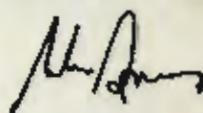

Most importantly, the Royal Melbourne Show is the state's premier event for agricultural competitions, from the prestigious Gaiety Equestrian Turnout, one of the highest national horse riding accolades for women, to the Barthwick Trophy, which is widely recognised as the most prestigious beef interbreed steer and carcass award in Australia, there's nothing like watching exhibitors compete for blue ribbon glory.

For foodies and budding masterchefs, a wide range of gourmet food and beverage will be on offer in the Grand Pavilion. Part of the gastronomic journey will include the Great Tasting Experience, which will play host to a variety of celebrity chefs while enlightening patrons in the areas of fine foods, coffee, wine and beer.

The Art, Craft and Cookery Pavilion is always a must-see exhibition of Victoria's finest cakes, scones and jams along with the best displays in craft, from millinery to recycled fashion, scrapbooking and more.

Attracting over 450,000 patrons each year, the Royal Melbourne Show is a must-attend event. For a great value day of fun, discovery and excitement with family and friends, there's nothing like the 2010 Royal Melbourne Show.

JAKE JUGGLES CATTLE AND EXAMS

Shorthorns, since he was about nine years old.

This year he is bringing three Shorthorn beef cattle to compete at the Show, while his parents will bring three Angus cattle.

And for the first time his show duties will involve judging, with Jake acting as an associate beef cattle judge.

Preparation for a Royal Melbourne Show begins years in advance, when competitors select the right mating to produce — hopefully — a show-winning calf.

Then it takes time getting them quiet enough to be led and feeding them to make them look every inch a winner.

A week or two before the Show, the cattle are clipped. Then, once the animals have arrived at the showgrounds, they are washed, blow dried, combed and brushed.

"You've got to get their hair sitting right, similar to people," he said.

Jake will stay on site, with his cattle, for about a week — juggling preparation, judging and studying for his year-12 exams which are just weeks away.

But he'll also find time to socialise.

"The Show is a really good social time to meet up with people we don't see very often," he said.

"It's also a good marketing tool and we get to see potential clients."

Jake has tasted show success before with a reserve winner several years ago, while many of his Show cattle have gone on to be sold.

Livestock Pavilion. A number of fleeces have been donated, with all proceeds going to the Lenkaemia Foundation.

GOATS

The Goat competition will be judged on Tuesday, September 27, in The Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion including Boer and Dairy goats. The judging line-up for this year includes a South African judge.

HORSES

From traditional Clydesdale harness events to the excitement of showjumping, there's plenty of action in the celebrated Horses in Action program.

Australia's most prestigious horse showing event, the Garryowen Equestrienne Turnout, will continue a two-year tradition with the finest fence riders vying for the coveted Garryowen Trophy. The event honours the memory of Violet Murrell who died while trying to save her champion horse Garryowen and will take place on Thursday, September 23.

World-class showjumping will take place from Saturday, September 25 to Tuesday, September 28. Highlights include the Pacific League World Cup Showjumping qualifier event on Sunday, September 26 and the crowd favourite Six Bar jumping event under lights on Monday, September 27. ### A FAMILY OF FOODIES SHOW competitions are a family affair for the Visscher family (above).

Mum Cathey, 40, daughter Rachael, 15, and son Chris, 12, all enter Royal Melbourne Show competitions while dad Steve is a willing taste tester of the family's cooking.

Cathey's mum Elaine Western, 65, also gets in on the act, entering her handicrafts in this year's Show.

Cathey, who has entered her home-made delights for four years, will this year enter an astonishing 17 categories including preserves, jams, biscuits, sponge cake, fudge and muffins.

Rachael, who first entered three years ago, is hoping to again win a prize for her photography as she did last year. And Chris will show off his cooking skills with carrot and zucchini loaf, and choc chip cookies, entered in the junior cooking competition.

Elaine hopes for success with her handmade cards, beadwork and stuffed toys.

It was a family trip to the Show five years ago that set the Visscher family in competition mode.

"We were at the Royal Melbourne Show one year and I saw everything that was in there and thought 'I can do that,' so I did," she said.

"I have always done most of my own cooking because growing up in the country, mum always made her own jams and sours or bottled preserves. We lived on those as kids and never bought jam or tinned fruit so I've always enjoyed it," she said.

Cathey says it can get hard in the run-up to the Show, juggling work and family commitments, and has even found herself making jams at 11pm. She spends at least a few hours a week, year round, cooking and preparing her entries.

"I do what I can when fruit and vegies are seasonal, to keep costs down," she said.

"You do what you can, when you can."

This year is the first time she has entered preserves and jams, having started making them only in the past year. But she has tasted success at regional competitions at the Berwick and Dandenong shows.

OLIVER'S SWISS HIGH DIVING EXTRAVAGANZA

Towering 25m above a pool of water only 2.8m deep is a tiny platform barely big enough to see. A diver climbs the tower, and from his tiny perch performs a series of amazing somersaults, spins and twists at incredible speed before landing in the shallow pool below.

This is Oliver's Swiss High Diving Extravaganza, which will be held four times a day at the Herald Sun Town Square. It's your only chance to see it in Australia.

Five divers make 70 dives during the spectacular 25 minute show — the highest dive show ever performed in Australia. The divers reach speeds of up to 90km/h as they plunge toward the pool below.

Direct from Switzerland, the show delivers breathtaking, daredevil stunts and unparalleled Olympic athleticism. The incredible Diving Inferno is sure to wow the crowds as a diver set alight and with flames engulfing his body, makes a daring dive from a 25m height.

The five divers even perform high dives in perfect synchronicity, while comic displays of aerial diving high-jinks and slapstick comedy also feature in the show.

Directed and created by the current world high dive record holder (at 54m) Oliver Favre-Bulle, Oliver's Swiss High Diving Extravaganza is world-class fun for the whole family.
