The Show comes to town

Welcome to the biggest event in the event state!

Royal Show – you’ve gotta go

IT'S Royal Show time again and that means taking the family to the showgrounds for a day of fun and excitement.

This year's Show will have all the wonder, pageantry and excitement you expect at this great event. It will connect the country with the city and display the very best in animals, agriculture and agribusiness.

As well, there will be all the thrills of rodeo, action sports and carnival, and the enjoyment of country music, educational attractions, street theatre and fine food.

The Show runs from Thursday, September 20, to Sunday, September 30. Gates open daily from 8.30am-10pm, except for the final day, when the Show finishes at 8.30pm.

Pavilions and halls are open 9am-9pm in general, though some close earlier each day.

Major new attractions this year include The Mummy Returns – Live! — an interactive experience designed in collaboration with Universal Studios.

CRUSH — entertainment and dance for under-18s — is on every day. It features live artists, DJs and a laser show.

See the strong men in the Hard Yakka Tug o' War Challenge in the covered BFB Pavilion.

Tempt your taste buds at Arnott's biscuit factory — see biscuits being made and grab a sample of your favourite variety.

Listen to the Royal Marines Band — one of Britain's most acclaimed bands — on the Main Arena and Plummer Ave, September 25-26.

Kiddies Adventure Island (map reference F5) comes complete with beach themes, sand pits, pirates, and the wave swinger ride.

All-time favourite features include the animals and poultry. You can pat them or watch them vie for the Royal Show Blue Ribbon.

From the world of horticulture come displays of fruit and vegetables and special presentations. A major attraction is the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria Town & Country Orchid Expo 2001.

Arts and crafts include paintings, leatherwork, needlework, ceramics, cakes and cookery.

The horse competitions include novelty, harness, showjumping and Australia's greatest equestrienne competition, the Garryowen.

Rodeo returns with spine-tingling evening shows on the Main Arena — bull riding, bronco riding, bulldogging and barrel racing.

Action Sports under cover has action sports stars on skateboards, bikes and in-line skates.

Heave ho

THE SPIRIT of competition will be alive and on display during the Hard Yakka Tug o' War event.

Held under cover in the BFB Pavilion (map ref C5), the Hard Yakka Tug o' War will allow patrons to get up close to this traditional battle of strength and endurance.

Up for grabs will be the Victorian title, run under Victorian Tug o' War League competition rules.

Men's teams have a maximum weight of 560kg, in the form of six competitors.

Mixed teams can enter but must involve a team made up of three females and three males.

Tug o' War has a strong following in the Irish community, so there is sure to be plenty of good humour among the competitors.

For a bit of added fun, a celebrity event will be held on the Main Arena on Sunday September 23. After the celebrities have had their work out, there will be opportunities to collect their autographs.

See the Daily Planner for specific days and times.

You ain't screamed nothing yet!

THE Royal Melbourne Show is set to turn from Agricultural World into "Screamworld" with the introduction of Universal Studios' own tour of terror — The Mummy Returns - Live!

Visitors will confront all the scary characters from the blockbuster movie, The Mummy Returns. They'll also experience the fear and terror of creepy crawlies in this scream-a-second, interactive-action attraction that uses the latest technology. It even has a spinning antechamber that is sure to thrill and excite adventurers.

An interactive tomb of horror, complete with spiders, skeletons, sarcophagi and scarabs, awaits the unwary in the 4000 square foot Mummy

Returns - Live! maze, which brings to life the special effects of the big screen.

Thrill seekers who survive the first antechamber go on to nine more chambers haunted by diversionary animatronic effects and haze and fog with custom-designed digital sound effects that are guaranteed to blow away the cobwebs and get you screaming.

The Mummy Returns - Live! is open 10am-9pm every day of the show and is located in Plummer Ave, map reference G3.

And thanks to the Herald Sun and The Mummy Returns - Live!, show patrons can get a discount on the entry price to The Mummy Returns - Live!. Keep an eye out for the coupon in the Herald Sun during the Royal Show.

Save with a coupon book

THE Royal Show offers extra family value this year with the introduction of a Show Saver Coupon Book supported by Network 10.

The coupon book will be on sale for $5 with vouchers offering total savings of $850 on a range of goods and services.

These include snacks, soft drinks, wine, sports merchandise, a photographic session, rides and games.

There are 46 coupons in the book with redeemable values ranging from $2 to $180.

The book is transferable.

The holder simply presents it, with the relevant voucher intact, to the participating standholder at the show.

The Network 10 Show Saver Coupon Book will be on sale inside most entrances to the Show and from sellers around the showgrounds.

Show me the animals!

THE show is a great place to see top pets and farm animals. Each year about 30,000 compete for a blue ribbon.

The dog section alone boasts more than 5000 entries over 11 days of judging in the William Cockbill and Woodfull Pavilions. Judging is from 9am to 5pm daily.

About 180 breeds will be on display, including rare or exotic breeds such as the petite basset griffon vendeen, leamberger, portuguese water dog, curaster, lagotto, havanese, karnier, hamiltonstovare and polish lowland sheepdog.

This year there is a new class, the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria Pedigree Puppy Award for best puppy bred in Australia.

It will be judged on September 23. On the same day a ceremony will be held to honour dogs' involvement in the community.

The annual Best Canine Service to the Community Award for 2009 will be presented to Assistance Dogs for Independence, a non-profit organisation that sources, trains and maintains dogs in community settings to help people with physical disabilities.

Further canine capers can be seen at the fast-paced Flyball, an action-packed relay for dogs of all shapes and sizes, in the Woodfull Pavilion on September 30.

Other highlights include the Agility Trials (on the judging lawn) where jumping classes have been added to the action.

More than 4000 entries have been received for the horse events.

Clydesdales take to the Main Arena for the first two days and international judge Tom Clark, from Scotland, will do the honours.

Day two features the Garryowen Trophy for lady riders. Some of Australia's best hunting, riding, showjumping, novelty, stockhorse, tent pegging and campdrafting events will also be held in the Main Arena.

In the showjumping, the Pacific League World Cup qualifying event will be held in the evening on September 27, in the Main Arena, and the challenging six-bar event is set for 5.15pm on September 29.

A special guest judge for the Show Hunter Section is New Zealander Caroline Tims. New Zealand is also well represented with showjumpers.

Joining the equine excellence at the showgrounds will be a comprehensive display of beef and dairy cattle.

More than 1200 beef and dairy cattle are entered with judging planned for the Main Arena and BFB Pavilion.

Beef cattle judging is split into the first and second week of the show.

Feature breed in the first week is the belted galloway and the well-muscled limousin takes centre stage in the second week.

Dairy cattle judging is planned for the first three days: September 20-22.

In the sheep section, the feature breed consists of dorset downs, dorset hogs, hampshire downs, south downs, south suffolks, suffolks, ryelands and shropshires.

A ram sale is also planned for September 29.

In the Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion you'll find the curious alpacas. Royal Melbourne is the biggest gathering of alpacas outside their native South America.

The feature breed in the goats is the british alpine, noted for its dairying ability.

Sheep judging takes place in the Weekly Times Livestock Pavilion from September 26-28 and alpacas and goats are judged from September 20-23.

One of the animal favourites is the cat judging, in the Cat Pavilion (map ref C3), adjoining Aquaculture, from September 23-30.

Patrons are encouraged to come along and view the cat judging and see some of the country's favourite felines. Judges include David Mare, from Las Vegas.

The feature breed in the poultry section is the hamburgh.

Cage birds will be on display in the Cat Pavilion on September 20 and 21.

And no show would be complete without rabbit judging, which will be held on September 22 in the old Cattle Pavilion (map ref G6), just near Gate 2 in Langs Rd.

Red carpet for seniors

TUESDAY, September 25, will be a special day for senior citizens at the show.

The red carpet treatment during Magic 693 Super Seniors Day will begin at the entrances, where Seniors Card holders will be admitted for $9.

They will also receive a Seniors Day badge and a map entitling them to lots of discounts.

From 9am, there will be complimentary tea, coffee and donuts while they relax with the Magic 693 Super Seniors Day entertainment, including Denis

Walter and the Johnny Young Show Band.

They can also meet Magic breakfast announcers Anne and Andrew and see the finalists in Arthritis Victoria's Grandparent of the Year program.

Seniors will also get to enjoy all the free attractions of the show, including cooking, cake decorating and craft demonstrations in the new-look Art and Craft Pavilion and a wealth of horticultural advice, including how to pot and grow orchids.

Entertainment

THE Royal Melbourne Showgrounds is abuzz with all manner of entertainment, from headlining bands to jugglers, musicians, stage shows and dancers.

There's hardly a street corner or area of lawn that hasn't been covered by the Show's attractions department to make sure your day is loaded with quality entertainment.

MAIN ARENA

AT the forefront is the crowd's favourite entertainment venue, the Main Arena.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday (September 28-30) between 9am and 5pm, a new attraction, Cutting, hits the turf.

This is a display of skills where horse and rider have to split or "cut" a single cow from a herd and keep it away from the herd.

The 2½-minute heats are spectacles of explosive, adrenalin-packed equine gymnastics.

The action does not stop there. There's a grand prix's worth of car action, starting with the Hyundai Precision Driving Team.

Appearances by sprint cars, super sedans and go-karts keep the dirt flying, while compact speedcars and modified production cars keep any rev head happy.

The Main Arena car action culminates on the final evening of the show (Sunday, September 30) when the Valvoline Comedy Stunt Cars roll out, closely followed by sprint cars, Howling Humpies featuring classic vehicles such as FX and FJ Holdens, vintage speedcars and super modifieds.

If that's not enough excitement, the Dave Russell Stunt Spectacular is sure to get your pulse racing.

Don't forget the rodeo, returning this year with spine-tingling evening shows, including bull riding, bronco riding, bulldogging and barrel racing.

The Main Arena evening program finishes with a bang each night thanks to a huge fireworks display.

MUSIC

A GREAT place to get down and dance is the Country Music Muster, home to performers such as Australian Keith Glass, country music veteran Cash Backman and the winner of this year's Victorian Music Awards Female Vocalist of the Year, Lyn Bowtell.

Other country singer include Dale Juner, Colin Cook and Crakajak.

Adding to the musical line up are Warren H. Williams, Broderick Smith, Lindsay Hammond, Mary Heard, Paul Gadsby, Ian Brodie and the Broken Arrows, Doug Mansfield and the Dust Devils and for Tuesday and Wednesday only (September 25 and 26) the Band of the Royal Marines.

AROUND THE GROUNDS

ON THE Centre Point Lawn there are continuous performances guaranteed to entertain.

The Victoria Police love their music. The Police Show Band and Code One are show regulars, while Johnny Young's Young Talent Team, Vietnamese Music and Dance, the Chao Feng Orchestra, the Western Region Concert Band and a host of highland dancers add to the cultural flavour of Centre Point Lawn.

Just across the road from there at the Administration Building (actually on the roof of the Admin Building), patrons can see the antics of the Flying Lotahs' Swaypole and Trapeze act.

This spectacle will see the father-and-daughter team Clive and Danielle Harrison swing and sway in the breeze, atop a 6 metre aluminium pole 5 cm in diameter.

Neither performer relies on safety devices or gimmicks, just years of training, strength and skill that combine to produce a graceful display.

When they are not defying gravity, the pair are entertaining the crowd on the Sky's The Limit Stage with more trapeze and other acts.

Also keep an eye out for the Pitt Family as they rove the grounds to put gravel-shovelling back into earthmoving competition history.

Digger, Sandy, Doug and Cess Pit have a variety of shovels and wheelbarrows in a mobile and fun-filled frenzy.

Off Ye Frolly, a colourful trio will have people in stitches with their whacky interpretations of music from rock 'n' roll to country and western and blues.

The happy threesome, complete with shopping trolleys, spend countless hours at the VRC Entrance to ensure show patrons always have a happy tune to tap their feet to.

For all your show entertainment information, specific times and venues, see the show guide's daily planner.

Chop-a-block excitement

AXEMEN, on your marks, get set, go ... 1...2...3...

It's a familiar cry at the Woodchop Pavilion that signals the start of many of the exciting and fast-paced events.

It's also a cry that's been heard around the Showgrounds since 1911, making woodchopping one of the longest-running events.

Like the competition, the families of competitors have had a long association with the Show.

Names such as Foster, O'Toole, Youd and Meyer continue to crop up year after year.

In many cases, fathers and sons make the journey to keep the tradition alive.

This year there are almost 20 teams entered in the father-son competition.

Another highlight in the Woodchop Pavilion is the battle for a world championship.

The final will be held on Tuesday, September 25, and boasts a world-class field, including New Zealander David Boistad, Tasmanian David Foster and Laurence O'Toole senior and junior.

The pace is sure to be frantic.

The world champions hip combines two of the most popular woodchopping disciplines, underhand and standing block.

There will be two heats to decide who will be in the running to take the world title that has a prize purse of $5000.

If that's not enough action, don't miss the Australia v New Zealand Test match series.

The score in recent years is three to two in favour of the Kiwis, so the Australians will be keen to make amends.

Make sure you get there to cheer the Aussies on.

Learn by talking to the animals

THE Royal Melbourne Show can be a learning experience, with many attractions based on education for the young and the young at heart.

These attractions are all under cover in pavilions that cater for children.

An animal precinct is open from 9am until 8pm every day.

The precinct begins with the Farm Animal Kingdom, home to ducklings in their own pond, pigs and piglets, a variety of stud cattle and their equine pals, including a shetland pony, a clydesdale, a rare fjord pony and in the second week, a highland pony.

Several steps away is MooTown, the dairy industry showcase where you discover how milk gets from the cow to the carton.

MooTown shows what it's like to be a dairy farmer and explores the many commercial aspects of the dairy industry.

MooTown includes interactive displays about how milk becomes many other products such as butter and cheese, and there are actual cows being milked.

Fun games also give kids the chance to win samples of dairy products.

Near MooTown is the Fibre Factory, which showcases animals that make up the Australian fibre industry.

The Fibre Factory is full of sheep, goats and alpacas.

There's shearing and working dog demonstrations on the hour as well as spinning, weaving and felting displays.

Just north of the Farm Animal Kingdom is the Farrier's Forge, where blacksmiths work over bellows and anvils to demonstrate their skills.

The Farrier's Forge also demonstrates horse-breaking, wheelrighting and, thanks to long term manager Carl O'Dwyer, there's a range of farrier competitions with prizemoney of $3000.

Then there's one of the Show's all-time favourites, the Cadbury Animal Nursery, noted for its chicks, chicks, ducks, goats, the odd donkey and a calf or two.

Don't forget inside the nursery you'll find the "putting paddock" where children can nurse a lamb or inspect a piglet -- if they can catch it!

Another addition to the Show's education-based attractions is aquaculture.

Found just outside the western end of the Cadbury Animal Nursery, aquaculture reveals the bounty that can be harvested from tanks, dams and other water storages.

Visitors can get a snapshot of aquaculture education, farming practices, food preparation, packaging and all the tricks of the trade required to run an aquaculture business.

On hand will be expert industry representatives from Fishing Victoria, the Department of Natural Resources and Environment and other aquaculture sectors.

They will ensure your aquaculture visit is an informative journey into the world of water.

On the other side of the showgrounds on the Woodchop Lawn is Working With Wood, an opportunity for children from two to 13 to explore their creative potential using tools and timber.

Working With Wood is based on humans need to construct three-dimensional representations of their world. In other words, children love to make things.

This interactive exhibit is big on learning with minimal interference from adults.

It encourages self confidence and pride in creative ability through a play approach.

Not far from the Woodchop Lawn, just next to the public turnstile entrance in Langs Rd, is the Nestle Milky Bar Mixing Barn where show visitors can have a go at hand milking a cow.

Young execs show how

THE Royal Melbourne Show will host the biggest trade fair in Australia on Sunday, September 30, in which the business operators will be under the age of 25.

As part of the Young Achievement Australia's business skills program, Victoria's youngest executives will compete for customers and awards in retail excellence.

Up to 70 companies will be represented at the trade fair.

All the companies are owned and operated by secondary and tertiary students, graduates and unemployed young people.

Herb gardens, boxer shorts, home-made cards and children's interactive CD-ROMs are just a few of the Australian-made products and services that will be for sale.

Student companies will be judged on the day by a panel from the business community. Awards will be presented at 3.30pm.

The trade fair, sponsored by Small Business Victoria and the Royal Agricultural Society, will be in the Meakim Pavilion from 10 am to 5pm.

Previous Victorian Trade fairs have generated substantial sales.

It's a great chance to see our future business leaders in action and to support our young people.

Hit the road to fun and health

THERE IS a road full of health and fun waiting to be explored at the Royal Melbourne Show.

It's called the Yellow Brick Road and it will lead kids and their parents to some of the tastiest food.

The concept is simple. Just head to the Yellow Brick Road sales outlet inside the main gates and pay the $8 road toll.

For this you will receive a calico carry bag and a map to guide you to a range of exhibitors.

They will fill your bag with treats from all around the country.

This year's line-up includes SPC Fruit Snacks, Sanitarium Fruity Bix Bars, Arnotts biscuits, Riviera Farm Style Ice Cream, Bulla Frozen Fruit 'N Yoghurt Stick and Sunbeam Sultanias.

You will also be able to collect a selection of fresh fruit and vegetables from Victoria's finest primary producers.

You will also receive a souvenir edition of The Weekly Times, the largest-selling rural newspaper in Australia.

In it you will find a 24-page colour magazine full of the best reader recipes. It's one of a six-part series.

For people who have travelled the Yellow Brick Road, remember there is a discount if you use the calico bag from previous years.

So take the family for a walk along the Yellow Brick Road.

There's no better way to see the show while you collect a swag of great food along the way.

Fashion through the ages meets new-age funk

Gone are the days when a fashion parade simply meant models walking up and down a catwalk.

At the Royal Show, fashion means entertainment and there is none better than the Interflora Fashion Show, Fashionation, which is supported by Centenary of Federation Victoria.

Fashionation, at the Australian Made & Country Style Pavilion (map ref B5), will deliver a fully choreographed, high-energy fashion extravaganza to Royal Show patrons.

It will follow a Centenary of Federation theme as it pays tribute to home-grown and Australiandeveloped fashion labels such as Blundstone, Yakka and Ripcurl.

And there will be something of interest for every member of the family.

The 30-minute shows start on the hour between noon and 7pm most days of the Royal Show.

A bloomin' good time is on for young and old

HORTICULTURISTS will have a bloomin' good time at the Royal Melbourne Show because there will be enough stands devoted to growing things to keep any budding green thumb busy.

The extraordinary colours and delicate structure of orchids will again a standout feature of the Coles Hall of Horticulture, following last year's successful debut.

This year, with even more space, the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria Town and Country Orchid Expo 2001 is sure to be a show-stopper.

Organisers expect the more than 1000 entries to provide a dazzling display of exotic floral flair.

There will be demonstrations on growing and maintaining orchids, guest speakers and a special appearance by gardening guru Kevin Heinze. There will even be orchids for sale.

Visitors to the Coles Hall will also find some unexpected activities, such as cooking demonstrations, to tempt them.

Daily presentations on planting, potting, pest control, and a variety of other topics will keep showgoers informed and entertained.

The Graingrowers Association's (RAS) Grains Expo, which is new to the show this year, will also be located in the Coles Hall.

It shows off all aspects of the grain industry, from primary production to processing, value-adding and exporting.

You will be able to touch and smell samples such as wheat and sunflower.

The VASA Agricultural display, which this year celebrates the Centenary of Federation, will be another highlight.

VASA is putting together a living piece of artwork utilising fruit, vegetables, grains, wine, honey, oils and dairy produce.

For the freshest produce, fruit and vegetable growers, wholesalers and retailers have joined the Melbourne Market Authority to present 11 days of delights at the Melbourne Markets pavilion.

Fruit and Veg — the Winning Edge will house fresh produce, loads of free samples, cooking demonstrations and recipes.

You will be able to try bananas, mushrooms and kiwifruit from Chiquita; tomatoes from the Melbourne Tomato Committee; Honey Murrill mandarins from John Holman & Co; apple and mandarin juice from Wild About Fruit, and much more.

You will also have a chance to win a $300 supply of fruit and vegetables from participating Fresh Daily greengrocers. There is $4500 in prizes to be won in this Melbourne Markets and Leader Newspapers Show competition. You can enter at the pavilion.

Watch and learn how to cook using fresh fruit and vegetables with Queensland Fruit and Vegetable Growers at the Fisher & Paykel Kitchen from 10am to 7pm each day.

Australian United Fresh nutritionists, and junior athletes from the Victorian Institute of Sport will present lunchtime sessions on 25 and 26 September, and there are two Yellow Brick Road collection spots: Murray Valley Citrus Growers and the Melbourne Tomato Committee.

Crafty arts to be sure fire winners

ART and Craft will have a new home at the Royal Show this year.

Located at map reference G5 in Degraives St, the brand new site known as the Art and Craft Hoecker will house a treasure chest of crafty capabilities.

The new venue has replaced the Art and Craft building which tragically burnt down earlier this year.

But those flames did not singe the enthusiasm of organisers, who then turned their hands to creating a special piece of the Showgrounds where Art and Craft rule.

As a result of this dedication, thousands of entries will go on display with the theme of Federation — Forging a Nation.

This guarantees a huge number of entries depicting what has made Australia the nation it is today.

The Art and Craft Hoecker, like the old Art and Craft building, will house most of the open competitive classes so there'll be plenty of decorated cakes, woodwork and needlecraft.

There are daily demonstrations of cake decorating and special cooking demonstrations, thanks to the support of Murdoch Books.

Special guest Jody Vassallo (pictured above), author of books such as the Marie Claire style series and a food researcher for Better Homes and Gardens, will be donning the apron daily between 11am and 4pm and preparing a range of healthy Quick Short recipes.

Family Circle has Step-By-Step Cookbooks that show you how to cook up a storm and Cocky's Children's books and showbags are great for any budding chef.

The Art and Craft continues on the lower floor of the PB Ronald Pavilion (map ref E3) where Royal Show patrons will find a Federation Flag display, Federation Paintings and a collection of World War I medals.

The Ronald Pavilion will also be a demonstration delight with exhibitions of bread, doll and lace making, as well as porcelain art, wheel throw pottery, basketry, calligraphy, scrap booking, tapestry, ceramics and china painting.

In the Angliss Gallery, fine art takes centre stage with sculptures, paintings, Federation rugs and a daily display of international and national mouth and foot paintings.

Last day spectacular

THE final day of the Royal Melbourne Show on Sunday, September 30 will be a ripper!

Top events will pack this special Sunday — and the spectacular Main Arena — with action including speedway cars, motorbike stunts, rodeo riding and a must-see display of massed pipes and drums.

There will also be all the usual features, such as the Cadbury Animal Nursery, horse events, Country Music Muster, The Mummy Returns — Live!, horticulture, art and craft, amusements and showbags.

Fashionation, at the Australian Made & Country Style Pavilion (map ref B5), will deliver a fully choreographed, high-energy fashion extravaganza to Royal Show patrons.

It will follow a Centenary of Federation theme as it pays tribute to home-grown and Australian-

developed fashion labels such as Blundstone, Yakka and Ripcurl.

And there will be something of interest for every member of the family.

The 30-minute shows start on the hour between noon and 7pm most days of the Royal Show.

A bloomin' good time is on for young and old

HORTICULTURISTS will have a bloomin' good time at the Royal Melbourne Show because there will be enough stands devoted to growing things to keep any budding green thumb busy.

The extraordinary colours and delicate structure of orchids will again a standout feature of the Coles Hall of Horticulture, following last year's successful debut.

This year, with even more space, the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria Town and Country Orchid Expo 2001 is sure to be a show-stopper.

Organisers expect the more than 1000 entries to provide a dazzling display of exotic floral flair.

There will be demonstrations on growing and maintaining orchids, guest speakers and a special appearance by gardening guru Kevin Heinze. There will even be orchids for sale.

Visitors to the Coles Hall will also find some unexpected activities, such as cooking demonstrations, to tempt them.

Daily presentations on planting, potting, pest control, and a variety of other topics will keep showgoers informed and entertained.

The Graingrowers Association's (RAS) Grains Expo, which is new to the show this year, will also be located in the Coles Hall.

It shows off all aspects of the grain industry, from primary production to processing, value-adding and exporting.

You will be able to touch and smell samples such as wheat and sunflower.

The VASA Agricultural display, which this year celebrates the Centenary of Federation, will be another highlight.

VASA is putting together a living piece of artwork utilising fruit, vegetables, grains, wine, honey, oils and dairy produce.

For the freshest produce, fruit and vegetable growers, wholesalers and retailers have joined the Melbourne Market Authority to present 11 days of delights at the Melbourne Markets pavilion.

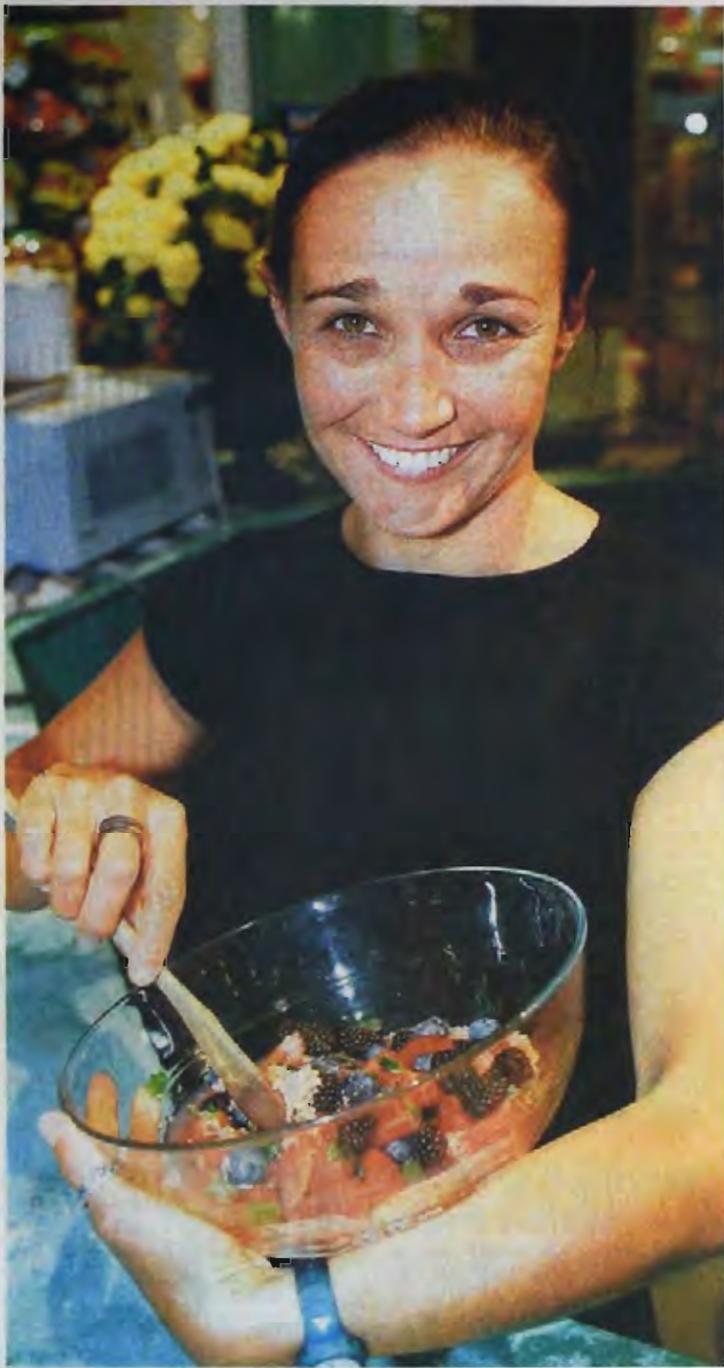

Fruit and Veg — the Winning Edge will house fresh produce, loads of free samples, cooking demonstrations and recipes.

You will be able to try bananas, mushrooms and kiwifruit from Chiquita; tomatoes from the Melbourne Tomato Committee; Honey Murcott mandarins from John Holman & Co; apple and mandarin juice from Wild About Fruit, and much more.

You will also have a chance to win a $300 supply of fruit and vegetables from participating Fresh Daily greengrocers. There is $4500 in prizes to be won in this Melbourne Markets and Leader Newspapers Show competition. You can enter at the pavilion.

Watch and learn how to cook using fresh fruit and vegetables with Queensland Fruit and Vegetable Growers at the Fisher & Paykel Kitchen from 10am to 7pm each day.

Australian United Fresh nutritionists, and junior athletes from the Victorian Institute of Sport will present lunchtime sessions on 25 and 26 September, and there are two Yellow Brick Road collection spots: Murray Valley Citrus Growers and the Melbourne Tomato Committee.

Crafty arts to be sure fire winners

ART and Craft will have a new home at the Royal Show this year.

Located at map reference G5 in Degraives St, the brand new site known as the Art and Craft Hoecker will house a treasure chest of crafty capabilities.

The new venue has replaced the Art and Craft building which tragically burnt down earlier this year.

But those flames did not singe the enthusiasm of organisers, who then turned their hands to creating a special piece of the Showgrounds where Art and Craft rule.

As a result of this dedication, thousands of entries will go on display with the theme of Federation — Forging a Nation.

This guarantees a huge number of entries depicting what has made Australia the nation it is today.

The Art and Craft Hoecker, like the old Art and Craft building, will house most of the open competitive classes so there'll be plenty of decorated cakes, woodwork and needlecraft.

There are daily demonstrations of cake decorating and special cooking demonstrations, thanks to the support of Murdoch Books.

Special guest Jody Vassallo (pictured above), author of books such as the Marie Claire style series and a food researcher for Better Homes and Gardens, will be donning the apron daily between 11am and 4pm and preparing a range of healthy Quick Short recipes.

Family Circle has Step-By-Step Cookbooks that show you how to cook up a storm and Cocky's Children's books and showbags are great for any budding chef.

The Art and Craft continues on the lower floor of the PB Ronald Pavilion (map ref E3) where Royal Show patrons will find a Federation Flag display, Federation Paintings and a collection of World War I medals.

The Ronald Pavilion will also be a demonstration delight with exhibitions of bread, doll and lace making, as well as porcelain art, wheel throw pottery, basketry, calligraphy, scrap booking, tapestry, ceramics and china painting.

In the Angliss Gallery, fine art takes centre stage with sculptures, paintings, Federation rugs and a daily display of international and national mouth and foot paintings.

Last day spectacular

THE final day of the Royal Melbourne Show on Sunday, September 30 will be a ripper!

Top events will pack this special Sunday — and the spectacular Main Arena — with action including speedway cars, motorbike stunts, rodeo riding and a must-see display of massed pipes and drums.

There will also be all the usual features, such as the Cadbury Animal Nursery, horse events, Country Music Muster, The Mummy Returns — Live!, horticulture, art and craft, amusements and showbags.

And don't forget the fireworks!

This is your last chance to see the biggest and best show ever.

PROGRAM AND TIMES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE

NETWORK 10 is again proud to be the major television partner of the Royal Melbourne Show in 2001.

See the stars of Neighbours on Saturday, September 22, on The Sky's The Limit stage.

The stars of Totally Wild are on stage weekdays at the Centrepoint Lawn.

Watch Ten for news about the show and hear about the show's coming highlights in Mike Larkan's weather reports on Ten News starting at 5pm each night.

THE GLOBAL GOURMET

LOCATED in the Schweppes Arcade, the Global Gourmet is a smorgasbord of cuisines.

Stop in at Stavros (of the multi-award winning Stavros Tavern) or visit the Royal Show Hotel for some of the finest draught beers from here and abroad. Try an ice-cold Stella Artois or an award winning Redback.

Patrons can also select from The Old Fish and Chippery or try a traditional German sausage from Wagner's Fine Foods.

THE COUNTRY MUSIC MUSTER

ANOTHER sizzling success story is the Country Music Muster, where Lone Star Steakhouse and Saloon will cook a tender, succulent ribeye steak to perfection. Or you can try a serving of delicious barbecue ribs or buffalo wings for something different.

For the more traditional, how about a wood-fired pizza, tasty gourmet sausage served in crusty damper roll or a selection of quality coffee and mouth-watering lamingtons — just like grandma made — from the General Store?

A THOUSAND CAMPFIRES BUSH TAVERN

EVERYONE loves a traditional Aussie country pub and A Thousand Campfires Bush

Tavern is no exception. The menu includes all of your old favourites: steak and kidney pie, silverside served with creamy mashed potato, hearty casseroles and damper.

Your day at the show would not be complete without trying one the chef's special steak sandwiches, made with tender Hereford prime striploin.

There is also a great selection of snacks available.

Relax in one of the many comfy couches while you enjoy a basket of crispy potato skins or a special garlic damper. Enjoy the warmth of the roaring fire or watch the world roll by from the beer garden.

And no pub visit would be complete without an ale or two. With plenty of soft drinks for the children, this is a great place to enjoy a quality family meal without breaking the budget.

COUNTRY WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

A SHOWTIME food institution, this year the CWA has moved to a new kitchen and dining area in the Schweppes Stand.

But don't let the modern surrounds fool you into thinking the tradition has gone.

The CWA is famous for home-made scones, hearty breakfasts and warm cuppas and there'll be no shortage this year.

REMEMBER TO LEAVE ROOM FOR ...

IF you are still hungry after all that, there is still plenty on offer. Paddock to Plate, in the Rural Pavilion, features everything from delicious yabby pies, venison burgers and corn on the cob to traditional Dutch poffertjes.

At this year's show, patrons will have the chance to visit the Kailis Brothers' oyster and seafood bar in Harvest Hall. Kailis Brothers is one of Australia's leading processors and retailers of fresh seafood.

Six freshly-opened oysters served with lemon and cocktail sauce will be available for $6. Marinated prawn, calamari and salmon skewers will be freshly barbecued.

Plus there will be a live oyster lease as used on oyster farms in Tasmania on display.

Australian Olive Products, which will include extra virgin olive oil and table olives, will be exhibited and sold at the Olive Business Centre (map ref F3) — a focal point for the promotion of the Australian olive industry.

The show caters for all tastes — pizza, chicken, baked potatoes, corn on the cob, roast beef rolls, hamburgers, tasty pies, sensational hot dogs, golden brown chips, fresh fruit, and roasted nuts are all available, to name a few.

Those with a sweet tooth should not forget treats such as fairy floss, popcorn, ice creams and toffee apples.

Fashion store on wheels

SEVEN metres high, 5.8 metres wide and 19 metres long, the R.M. Williams Longhorn Express truck is on display at the Melbourne Show, part of a long journey that is taking it across outback and metropolitan Australia.

The Longhorn Express, on the Geoffrey Howell Lawn (map ref G3), tells the story of Reginald Murray Williams and the company he founded.

It also offers patrons a chance to buy their favourite R.M. Williams clothing.

The Longhorn Express features a visual history of R.M. Williams, including black and white photographs from the early days.

Part of the boot-making process will also be on show using the famous one piece of leather.

The truck is a fully operational retail store, taking a "back to basics" approach and stocking quality boots and belts.

Everyone is welcome to join the celebration of a legendary Australian.

Show patrons can also catch a glimpse of the famous clothing label as 'Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria staff are decked out in it, thanks to RM Williams being the official outfitter of the Royal Show.

Everything you need to know about Show events and facilities

THE Show will be officially opened by the Governor, John Landy, at 3pm on Saturday, September 22, on the Main Arena.

The grand parades are a spectacle not to be missed, displaying some of the best of Australia's livestock.

The parade resembles a well-choreographed routine as cattle, horses, goats and many other animals parade around the arena while a small army of attractive harness vehicles circle them around the arena's perimeter.
